N3. Zero Divisors

Benjamin Madren

March 25, 2019

To test for whether a particular element of Z_m is a zero divisor, multiply it by all of the elements of Z_m and divide the product by m. If any of the remainders are zero, then the element is a zero divisor.